

Education

Grid Measurement & Analysis

We want to provide professional and high-quality solutions to problems and tasks that can be encountered in power engineering area. In our work we use the latest methods and combine it with rich practical experience. That is why our company emphatically cares about constantly educating and increasing qualifications of our employees via various trainings, seminars and scientific conferences.

At the same time, we - here at Gridman feel a social responsibility to increase the level of technical knowledge and skills of both professional and lay public. For this reason, we regularly publish the acquired knowledge at various conferences or in professional periodicals.

In the field of education, Gridman offers you and your employees:

- professional lectures,
- seminars on current topics and trends
- educational materials on customer-requested topics
- thematic trainings after agreement with the customer

web: www.gridman.sk
email: gridman@gridman.sk

Grid Measurement & Analysis